

4 stars

Bev X magazine

Lost Canyon

Chardonnay

Ruxton Vineyards

Russian River Valley 2008

Light straw color, The nose is fresh pure with scents of orchard fruits with accents of Clementine's and hints of mineral and vanilla. The palate echoes the nose being ultra vibrant with perfect balance coming from a judicious dose of natural acidity. The layers of fruit, mineral and subtle butterscotch notes are best uncovered with just a light chill. Ideally proportioned with a long finish focused on a semi-tart apples and citrus.

4 stars

Bev X magazine

Lost Canyon

Pinot Noir

Morelli Lane Vineyards

Russian River Valley 2008

Bright translucent ruby red color. The nose is bright with scents of raspberry and blackberry with a generous dose of minerality and accents of brown spices, dried herbs and hints of oak. The palate offers a pleasing thread of earth and spice that runs through the dense fruit. Ideally balanced and complex with layers of fruit, earth and spice with a clever use of oak.

4 stars

Bev X magazine

Lost Canyon

Pinot Noir

Widdoes Vineyard

Russian River Valley 2008

Bright translucent ruby red color(as Pinot should be). The nose reveals aromas of dark cheery and blackberry with accents of black pepper, thyme, lavender and tarragon. The palate echoes the nose delivering a rich and chewy fruit-driven core with ideal balance. Complimenting notes of earth and brown spice rise on the finish with soft, chewy tannins. Beautifully structured and complex while being very approachable and inviting.

4 stars

Bev X magazine

Lost Canyon

Pinot Noir

Saralee's Vineyard

Russian River Valley 2008

Bright translucent ruby red color. The nose is wonderfully fruity with scents of red cherry, ,raspberry and plum accented by noted of earth and allspice with hints of vanilla, anise and oak. The palate concurs with the nose with a fresh, silky texture focused on ripe fruit with soft tannins and great balancing acidity. It is a very stylish wine with perfect proportions and a deft use of oak.